Burra Caravan and Camping Park, Burra

Jayco Jaybirds: Burra Rally, 7th to 9th August 2015

What a fantastic decision Allan and I made 10 months ago to join the Jayco Jaybirds club.

It's the middle of winter and if we weren't in this club we would be sitting on our bums and curled up with our blankets watching TV.

Instead we out and about with a great bunch of people having a great time. Although Burra was cold 10 vans still came along.

Friday night everyone enjoyed a shared combination of slow cooked meals sitting around a campfire with the Crows match on a big screen TV in the open camp kitchen.

Saturday morning after a coffee get together it was decided to venture into the town information centre to acquire a key and do the heritage trail. Normal cost is $25 per person. However Mr Elpresidente managed to acquire a key for $10 per person. Good job. Some members did their own touring, the rest formed a convoy and off we went.

Must say our tour guide I think needs further lessons in reading maps as there were lots of u turns (Peter, hold it up the right way!)

Coffee and Cornish pies

were on the menu at the local bakery. Delish. The poor girls were just about to shut up shop when in walked the Jaybirds brigade. They were very good and service was lovely.

Happy hour Saturday was the norm, although we did have a couple of ring ins, a panda bear and a bull made their presence felt.

Saturday night everyone ventured to the local pub where meals were lovely. Unfortunately, however, the room was cold.

All in all what a fantastic weekend. Lots of food, wine, port and laughs had by all.
